6.5" High End Component Speakers

Digital Designs are proud to introduce a new line of components in cooperation with Anselm Andrian. With many years of audio discussions between Anselm Andrian and Jassa Langford, these two designers wanted to create a line of audio components expressly for enthusiasts who want the best in sound quality. The goal was to bring together components with all the solid engineering to bring the best preformance while spending quality ear time to tune the sound. There are plenty of high tech parts to explore in the DDA High End Components. The best materials and meticulous assembly techniques are used in the manufacturing; no compromises are made where quality or pursuit of accuracy is concerned.

The new DD-AW6.5s mid-woofers represent "state of the art" in driver technology.
